Visitor access and facilities Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Administration Committee,2012-05-23 Approximately 1 million people enter the parliamentary estate every year as visitors rather than as Members or staff of the two Houses of Parliament The two Houses must balance the business needs of a fully working legislature and those of a visitor attraction Parliament is first and foremost a working institution and that implies clear principles for how access is organised Democratic access to the work of Parliament must remain free and open enabling any citizen at least so far as physical space allows open access to sittings in the two Chambers in the Committee Rooms and in Westminster Hall or to meet their Member of Parliament Considerable work needs to be done on how the visitor attraction part of Parliament is best operated not least in persuading

some reluctant Members and staff of both Houses and an often instinctively negative media to recognise the difference between democratic access to the work of the place and interest in its heritage and tourism aspects The central idea that has emerged in this inquiry is that two conceptions of Parliament are required the working institution and the visitor attraction The two should be complementary not in conflict and some of the tensions that presently arise from for example queues outside the building and the consequent delay of business meetings for Members and others would be resolved if the two concepts were more rigorously held apart The Routledge Companion to Tour Guiding Shailja Sharma,2025-08-29

This comprehensive handbook offers an in depth exploration of both the theoretical and practical dimensions of tour guiding as a profession It provides readers with valuable insights into examining the key and dynamic role of tour guides in the tourism industry and the evolving expectations of modern travelers Enriched with global case studies spanning a diverse range of niche tours offered as tourism products around the world the book highlights emerging trends and the importance of continuous skill development in the profession It covers topics such as pre tour preparations the art of effectively opening and closing tours engaging narration at attractions the importance of technology for tour guides and the nuances of managing diverse groups Additionally it delves into the growing practice of virtual tour guiding and offers practical guidance on addressing guest inquiries managing grievances and handling emergencies besides addressing the new emerging trends in the field of tour guiding This companion is designed for students and educators in tourism travel and hospitality management programs worldwide It serves as a valuable training manual for national regional and local tourism authorities as well as tour operators and travel agencies Furthermore both seasoned professionals and aspiring tour guides will find it an essential reference to refine their skills and stay updated with contemporary best practices A Trip Too Far Rosaleen

Duffy,2013-06-17 Environmentally sustainable tourism or ecotourism has become a major area of interest for governments the private sector and international lending institutions It is regarded as a way of allowing economic development whilst protecting against environmental degradation especially in those countries with fragile ecosystems However despite the beneficial intentions of ecotourism it tends to be regarded uncritically by environmental organizations governments and the private sector alike Rosaleen Duffy presents this analysis of ecotourism linking it with environmental ideologies and the politics of North South relations By the extensive use of case study and interview material she formulates ideas and proposals that should be important for the development of ecotourism around the globe Translating Tourism Stefania M.
