The Second World War in the Twenty-First-Century Museum Stephan Jaeger, 2020-02-24 The Second World War is omnipresent in contemporary memory debates As the war fades from living memory this study is the first to systematically analyze how Second World War museums allow prototypical visitors to comprehend and experience the past It analyzes twelve permanent exhibitions in Europe and North America including the Bundeswehr Military History Museum in Dresden the Museum of the Second World War in Gdańsk the House of European History in Brussels the Imperial War Museums in London and Manchester and the National WWII Museum in New Orleans in order to show how museums reflect and shape cultural memory as well as their cognitive ethical emotional and aesthetic potential and effects This includes a discussion of representations of events such as the Holocaust and air warfare In relation to narrative memory and experience the study develops the concept of experientiality on a sliding scale between mimetic and structural forms which provides a new textual spatial method for reading exhibitions and understanding the experiences of historical individuals and collectives It is supplemented by concepts like transnational memory empathy and encouraging critical thinking through difficult knowledge

China and Japan at War, 1937-1945 Philip Jowett, 2016-03-30 This pictorial history of the Sino Japanese War offers a rare look at one of the most important yet neglected aspects of WWII The 1937 1945 war between China and Japan was one of the most bitter conflicts of the twentieth century It was a struggle between the two dominant peoples of Asia Millions of soldiers fought on each side and millions of soldiers and civilians died Philip Jowett's book is one of the first photographic histories of this devastating confrontation Using a selection of almost 200 historic photographs he traces the course of the entire war from the Japanese invasion and the retreat of the Chinese armies and their refusal to surrender to the involvement of the Americans and the eventual Japanese defeat in 1945 Jowett's graphic account is an absorbing introduction to this often overlooked theatre of the Second World War The images show the armies on all sides and the weaponry and equipment they used But they also record the experience of the troops Chinese and Japanese and of the Chinese civilians who suffered terribly through eight years of war 1945 the Second World War in the Air in Photographs

Under Fire: Women and World War II Eveline Buchheim, Ralf Futselaar, 2014 Since the 1970s when the dominance of military histories of the World Wars ended and social historical histories of conflict rose to prominence women have come to play an increasingly important role in mainstream stories about the Second World War Although this is undeniably a valuable development the perspectives on women that arose have in many respects remained limiting although in new ways Women have been portrayed as carers as victims notably of sexual violence but rarely as agents of their own fate This volume focuses on this last group In spite of the undeniable suffering and victimization that befell so many women during the war for others the war also opened opportunities and awakened ambitions The articles in this volume which cover both Europe and Asia bring together some of the women who took initiatives of which they sometimes suffered the dire consequences sometimes enjoyed the fruits Conflicting Images Stuart Allan, Tom Allbeson, 2024-05-31 In contrast with historical examinations centring the evolving role of the war correspondent Conflicting Images focuses on the contribution of photographers and photojournalists providing an evaluative appraisal of war photography in the news and its development from the nineteenth century to the twenty first century Stuart Allan and Tom Allbeson critically explore diverse genres of war photography across a broad historical sweep encompassing events from the Crimean War 1853 56 and the Civil War in the United States 1861 65 up to and including conflicts unfolding in Syria and Ukraine This book reflects on the relevance of different types of warfare to visual reporting from colonial conquest via trench warfare and aerial bombardment to the ideological dimensions of the Cold War and embedding and winning hearts and minds during the War on Terror and its aftermath In pinpointing illustrative examples the authors examine changing dynamics of production dissemination and public engagement Readers will come to understand how current efforts to rethink the future of war photography in a digital age can benefit from a close and careful consideration of war photography s origins early development and gradual uneven transformation over the years Conflicting Images aims to invigorate ongoing enquires and inspire new alternative trajectories for future research and practice This book is recommended reading for researchers and advanced students of visual journalism and conflict reporting

America's Use of Terror Stephen Huggins, 2019-11-07 From the first America has considered itself a shining city on a hill uniquely lighting the right way for the world But it is hard to reconcile this picture the very image of American exceptionalism with what America s Use of Terror shows us that the United States has frequently resorted to acts of terror to solve its most challenging problems Any war on terror Stephen Huggins suggests will fail unless we take a long hard look at ourselves and it is this discerning informed perspective that his book provides Terrorism as Huggins defines it is an act of violence against noncombatants intended to change their political will or support The United States government adds a qualifier to this definition only if the instigator is a subnational group On the contrary Huggins tells us terrorism is indeed used by the state a politically organized body of people occupying a definite territory in this case the government of the United States as well as by such predecessors as the Continental Congress and early European colonists in America In this light America s Use of Terror re examines key historical moments and processes many of them events praised in American history but actually acts of terror directed at noncombatants The targeting of women and children in Native American villages for instance was a use of terror as were the means used to sustain slavery and then to further subjugate freed slaves under Jim Crow laws and practices The placing of Philippine peasants in concentration camps during the Philippine American War the firebombing of families in Dresden and Tokyo the dropping of atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki all are last resort measures to conclude wars and these too are among the instances of American terrorism that Huggins explores Terrorism in short is not only terrorism when they do it to us as many Americans like to think And only when we recognize this and thus the dissonance between the ideal and the real America will we be able to truly understand and confront modern terrorism

Photography and the Making of the Nazi Racial Community Julie R. Keresztes, 2025-01-15 Photography and the Making of the Nazi Racial Community examines the role of photography in the construction of the Nazi Volksgemeinschaft a racially exclusive community during the Third Reich Julie R Keresztes explores how the dictatorship promoted photography for those who belonged to that community and excluded Jews from the practice As Nazi officials dispossessed Jewish photographers and robbed them of their equipment studios and eventually their lives they made photography more accessible to non Jewish Germans But they inadvertently created spaces for photography to be used as resistance and revenge in concentration camps where forced laborers salvaged photographs that exposed the extermination of Europe s Jews As the victims of Nazi persecution used photography to gather evidence of the Holocaust German troops and their families used photography to portray themselves as dutiful members of the Volksgemeinschaft rather than show the reality of war and genocide Ultimately Photography and the Making of the Nazi Racial Community shows how the configuration of photography along racial lines shaped the imagery of the Second World War Published in Association with the US Holocaust Memorial Museum Holocaust and the Moving Image Toby Haggith, Joanna Newman, 2005 Based on an event held at the Imperial War Museum in 2001 this book is a blend of voices and perspectives archivists curators filmmakers scholars and Holocaust survivors Each section examines films and how they have contributed to wider awareness and understanding of the Holocaust since the war Photography Liz Wells, 2000 Surveying the spectrum of photography from the mid nineteenth century to the present Photography A Critical Introduction is the first book to examine key debates in photographic theory and place them in their proper social and political contexts While most histories of photography invariably focus on the works of the great photographers this book is written especially to provide a coherent introduction to the nature of photographic seeing and its personal and cultural significance through history Contributors lucidly examine a range of major photographic theories histories genres and issues covering such topics as key debates in photographic theory and history documentary photography and photojournalism personal and popular photography photography and commodity culture photography and the human body photography as art and photography in the age of electronic imaging This completely revised and updated second edition includes detailed case studies key references biographies of key thinkers and margin notes a full glossary of terms comprehensive end of chapter bibliographies and resource information including guides to public archives and useful web sites The lavish illustrations include images by Bill Brandt Lee Friedlander Hannah Hoch Roshini Kempadoo Dorothea Lange Lee Miller Alexander Rodchenko Jacob Riis Sebastio Salgado Andres Serrano and Jo Spence Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2003 Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress, 1968 World War II Guide to Records Relating to U.S. Military Participation Rebecca L.
