Industrial Colonies and Village Settlements for the Consumptive (Classic Reprint) German

Woodhead,2018-01-19 Excerpt from Industrial Colonies and Village Settlements for the Consumptive Symonds and we together examined the patients sampled the climate and other conditions and argued with Unger and Ruedi Then for the second time came Hope more solid Hope Given a fairly early case and three years and recovery was in the offing And so we went on cheerfully with Davos But Davos was not for every one nor was every case an early one Then came the discovery that lower altitudes would do if certain conditions were obtained and so arose the great sanatorium movement But slowly we found that patients could not spend their lives in sanatoriums and one day on making my way up to one of them in England I met on the way patient after patient slouching along bored to death with themselves and with each other and even worse in morale than in body Better discipline and better notions of therapeutics mended some of that still I could not forget those listless saunterers and it became evident to some of us however unwillingly that Hope was drooping again The sanatorium was doing a great educative work no doubt but at the end of its four or six months what then To send the patient away with recommendations about light jobs and a regime was almost a mockery or quite What about the wage and the family to be supported The next lesson was brought home to me by a visit with other commissioners to certain cities concerning some such problems Before me now I see a gaunt hollow eyed man coughing and leaning against the wall as he tried to talk to us saying that his mates when he came out of the sanatorium good fellows as they were had bought him a milk that he might creep round and earn a bit The brave wife shawl on head and mill apron on had just come from the factory and apologised for the dirty house as well she might The poor thing was working all day at the factory to keep the wolf from the door All being dragged down together into the pit What is the value of a good house or a clean house if no wages What is there for the children And what is to stop the infection Who then would have the imagination the initiative the business capacity to lift this burden like lifting a world About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Periodical Literature in Eighteenth-century America Mark Kamrath, Sharon M.

Harris,2005 Similar to the digital revolution of the last century the colonial and early national periods were a time of improved print technologies exploding information faster communications and a fundamental reinventing of publishing and media processes Between the early 1700s when periodical publications struggled and the late 1790s when print media surged ahead print culture was radically transformed by a liberal market economy innovative printing and papermaking techniques improved distribution processes and higher literacy rates meaning that information particularly in the form of newspapers and magazines was available more quickly and widely to people than ever before These changes generated new literary genres and new relationships between authors and their audiences The study of periodical literature and print culture in the eighteenth century has provided a more intimate view into the lives and tastes of early Americans as well as enabled researchers to further investigate a plethora of subjects and discourses having to do with the Atlantic world and the formation of an American republic Periodical Literature in Eighteenth Century America is a collection of essays that delves into many of these unique magazines and newspapers and their intersections as print media as well as into what these publications reveal about the cultural ideological and literary issues of the period the resulting research is interdisciplinary combining the fields of history literature and cultural studies The essays explore many evolving issues in an emerging America scientific inquiry race ethnicity gender and religious belief all found voice in various early periodicals The differences between the pre and post Revolutionary periodicals and performativity are discussed as are vital immigration class and settlement issues Political topics such as the emergence of democratic institutions and dissent the formation of early parties and the development of regional national and transnational cultural identities are also covered Using digital databases and recent poststructural and cultural theories this book returns us to the periodicals archive and regenerates the ideological and discursive landscape of early American literature in provocative ways it will be of value to anyone interested in the crosscurrents of early American history book history and cultural studies Mark L Kamrath is associate professor of English at the University of Central Florida Sharon M Harris is Lorraine Sherley Professor of Literature at Texas Christian University
