Extractive Industry Indigenisation in Zimbabwe Kennedy Manduna,2025-09-25 This book explains how and why Zimbabwe s extractive industry Indigenisation over promised its benefits yet under delivered upon implementation This book traces the history of uneven development in Zimbabwe from the initial days of colonialism to the present using the extractive industry as the unit of analysis to carve out a granular and empirical analysis of the preponderance of transnational corporate control and ownership in the country. Indigenisation of Zimbabwe's extractive industries was intended to address mining inequalities by transferring wealth from rich non-Indigenous mining capital to disadvantaged Indigenous citizens and communities. This policy however was a response to political economic and social crises posed by the international isolation of Zimbabwe's government following the controversial Fast Track Land Reform Programme in 2000-2003. An intervention therefore which promised to address inequalities has thus been hampered by corruption, co-optation and collusion which has led to it not only failing to address uneven development but in actual fact worsening the situation. By examining the hidden structures and infrastructures of power, capital and minerals and placing extractive industry Indigenisation in capitalism, this book makes a crucial scholarly contribution to the renewed and burgeoning debates around the resurgence of resource nationalism in general and the struggle for economic sovereignty in particular. This book steers readers more broadly to look for new and diversified ways of empowering Indigenous populations and their communities through mining Indigenisation in ways that do not threaten economic and political stability. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the extractive industries, natural resource management, African politics and African development.

Charles Manga Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2021. This volume examines democracy and elections in Africa, taking stock of the state of constitutional democracy on the continent after the democratic gains of the 1990s and 2000s, focusing on how competitive politics or multiparty democracy can be realized and how through competition such politics could lead to better policy and practice outcomes.

COVID-19 in Zimbabwe
Lazarus Chapungu, David Chikodzi, Kaitano Dube, 2023-01-01. This contributed volume based on papers presented at a conference held in Zimbabwe in mid-2021, interrogates solutions to COVID-19 related problems and issues across agricultural, environmental and water sectors in Zimbabwe and assesses their scientific, economic and practical validity. Across 19 chapters, this volume unpacks the science, economics and politics of the pandemic with a focus on understanding its secondary and tertiary impact on Zimbabwe's population. The volume is also dedicated to understanding the practical and policy-oriented approaches in tackling the pandemic and confronting the new normal of COVID-19. It brings together researchers, development practitioners and policy makers from various disciplines in an endeavour to understand COVID-19 trends and analyse the scientific options for mitigation, containment, innovation and ultimately pre-empt the possible emergence and impacts of other pandemics in the future.

Mapping research and innovation in the Republic of Zimbabwe Lemarchand, Guillermo A., Schneegans, Susan, 2014-08-11.

The Foundations

and Traditions of Constitutional Amendment Richard Albert, Xenophon Contiades, Alkmene Fotiadou, 2017-07-13 There is growing interest in constitutional amendment from a comparative perspective Comparative constitutional amendment is the study of how constitutions change through formal and informal means including alteration revision evolution interpretation replacement and revolution The field invites scholars to draw insights about constitutional change across borders and cultures to uncover the motivations behind constitutional change to theorise best practices and to identify the theoretical underpinnings of constitutional change This volume is designed to guide the emergence of comparative constitutional amendment as a distinct field of study in public law Much of the recent scholarship in the field has been written by the scholars assembled in this volume This book like the field it hopes to shape is not comparative alone it is also doctrinal historical and theoretical and therefore offers a multiplicity of perspectives on a subject about which much remains to be written This book aspires to be the first to address comprehensively the new dimensions of the study of constitutional amendment and will become a reference point for all scholars working on the subject The volume covers all of the topics where innovative work is being done such as the notion of the people the trend of empirical quantitative approaches to constitutional change unamendability sunrise clauses constitutional referenda the conventional divide between constituent and constituted powers among other important subjects It creates a dialogue that cuts through these innovative conceptualisations and highlights scholarly disagreement and in so doing puts ideas to the test The volume therefore captures the fierce ongoing debates on the relevant topics it reveals the current trends and contested issues and it offers a variety of arguments elaborated by prominent experts in the field It will open the way for further dialogue

Tonga Livelihoods in Rural Zimbabwe Kirk Helliker, Joshua Matanzima, 2022-12-15 Based on extensive original fieldwork this book examines the complex and diverse livelihoods of Zimbabwe's Tonga people as they have developed over time including in the wake of the country's post 2000 political and economic crises Despite being endowed with natural resources the northwest region of Zimbabwe inhabited by the Tonga people is one of the most marginalised and underdeveloped parts of the country neglected by both colonial and postcolonial governments The Tonga speaking people are a minority ethnic group that settled on either side of the Zambezi River around 1100 AD and remain deeply dependent on the river for their socio economic livelihoods This book reflects on the challenges faced by the Tonga people from poor infrastructure health and education facilities to the issues caused by soil infertility and extremely low rainfall which have been exacerbated by climate change Many Tonga people were displaced by the construction of the Kariba Dam in the 1950s and their access to the region's natural resources has been restricted by successive governments Showcasing the research of Zimbabwean scholars in particular this book not only reflects on the vulnerabilities faced by the Tonga but it also looks beyond these to the livelihood practices that are thriving despite these challenges and the ways in which livelihoods intertwine with Tonga culture and society more broadly Overall this book highlights the resilience of the Tonga people in the face of years of politico economic crisis and will be an important contribution to research on livelihoods ethnic minorities and rural development in Africa

State-Business Relations and Economic Transformation in South Africa and Zimbabwe Sinan Baran,2023-06-12

In State Business Relations and Economic Transformation in South Africa and Zimbabwe Unfinished Transformation Sinan Baran examines state business relations SBRs in semi peripheral South Africa and peripheral Zimbabwe after each country's transition to majority rule to address why SBRs are likely to either consolidate or fracture in post transition communities In both countries the majority governments faced unresolved post transition divisions relating to race inequality and underdevelopment Baran analyzes the liberalisation and indigenisation policy choices intended to address these areas that are impacting the mining industries in South Africa and Zimbabwe as case studies Using comparative analysis and a Modern World Systems lens he argues that semi peripheral countries are less susceptible to pressures from domestic and external powers than peripheral countries during periods of economic transformation He further argues that China's significant political and economic presence in a peripheral country like Zimbabwe has more effect on SBRs than in a semi peripheral country like South Africa

Zimbabwe Millennium Development Goals, 2009
