Translator's Workbench Marianne Kugler, Khurshid Ahmad, Gregor

Thurmair, 2013-11-09 The Translator's Workbench Project was a European Community sponsored research and development project which dealt with issues in multi lingual communication and documentation This book presents an integrated toolset as a solution to problems in translation and documentation Professional translators and teachers of translation were involved in the process of software development starting with a detailed study of the user requirements and ending with several evaluation and improvement cycles of the resulting toolset English German Greek and Spanish are addressed in the contributions however some of the techniques are inherently language independent and can thus be extended to cover other languages as well Translation can be viewed broadly as the execution of three cognitive processes and this book has been structured along these lines First the translation pre process understanding the target language text at a lexico semantic level on the one hand and making sense of the source language document on the other hand The tools for the pre translation process include access to electronic networks conversion of documents from one format to another creation of terminology data banks and access to existing data banks and terminology dictionaries Second the translation process rendering sentences in the source language into equivalent target sentences The translation process refers to the potential of conventional machine translation systems like METAL and of the statistically oriented translation memory Mastering
